

FAREWELL for David and Lyn Sawdon

Don't panic, they aren't leaving Dayboro, but as most are aware David has sold the Dayboro Medical Centre and will only be there till the end of April.

The residents of Dayboro decided that it would be nice to have a 'get together' to wish David and Lyn well and to thank them for their great service to Dayboro.

OUR PRAYERNET

One important part of the ministry we share with each other and our community is the ministry of prayer. Currently Paul manages our PrayerNet which receives and sends out prayer requests by email. Whilst we have many people already on the PrayerNet, it would be good to have most of our adherents there if they have email. All prayers are confidential and can only be sent out if they come from a family member or close friend and this friend would approve. Just let Paul know and he will add you to the email list. Collective prayer is the strength of a community.

Hello mainly music team,

At last we are ready to get underway again with our mainly music program. We start next Tuesday at 9.30am, setting up from 9am. Dayna has kindly joined us for three training sessions and her mum, Tina is going to join the team also. We are so grateful for this. I expect our numbers will be smaller from the first week but we do have one new family at least. mainly music had a major problem with the company who owned many of the songs withdrawing their agreement for usage and this meant all our music and power point resources have had to be set aside, while we make new ones. Some of our most popular songs are still available to us and some lovely new ones are there now also. We will gradually get on top of this but at least we have a good program for the first couple of weeks and we now can start work on future programs. We value your help with this program as it is a very important part of the Christian witness and ministry in Dayboro and having Dayna from the Dayboro Church makes that link stronger. Always on the look out for more helpers but in the meantime we should be OK. See you next Tuesday if not sooner.

ROSIE'S JOURNEY SO FAR -

We get very little information from Rosie - I suspect because the internet connection there is poor. She only has another 2 weeks there - my how the time has rushed past. She did send this account of a typical day:

A typical day for me involves turning off my alarm clock at 6:40, then again at 6:45, again at 6:50, then 6:55. At 6:58 I wake up and rush to be out of the door for a 7:00 breakfast - just on time. At breakfast the kids are sent to get plates and then food, with a different table serving the food and drink each day. From there I'll send the kids to brush their teeth and then do plates. If it's high school, kids have classes in the morning they'll leave early with Mik while I finish up the tables. When Mik returns he immediately takes the primary school kids to San Antonio, which is a school in one of the nearby jungle communities. Once they're all at school I begin washing the uniforms which of course, despite being in a tropical, extremely muddy environment, are white. After lots of bleach I'm finished and have a relaxed morning, setting aside any paperwork. At about 12 the kids return for lunch, and following that the high school students return to school and the younger ones clean their cabins and complete their homework. Once completed they have free time. They tend to watch TV or play football until 5:30, whereupon I send them to shower. Dinner, then more free time, with a bed time of 9:30 on weekdays and 10:00 on the weekends. I tend to stay up for another couple of hours for the sake of free time, which I usually spend watching TV that isn't Spanish SpongeBob Square Pants.
