Richard's Ramblings

A young boy was watching his preacher father write a sermon. "How do you know what to say?", asked the boy.

His father replied, "God tells me".

"So why do you keep crossing things out?"

I don't know about you, but I'm often stuck for the right words, pray as I might for articulate wisdom. That's why I say so much silly stuff, because my prayer for the sage stuff seems to have gone unanswered. I was called into a hospital very early yesterday, to pray with a man who was about to have a leg amputated. Although I didn't commit this particular faux pas, I was reminded of the colleague who, in a similar situation, said to the patient, "Don't worry, you'll soon be back on your feet".

Sometimes the best bet is just to admit that we don't know what to say, how to pray, even what our demeanour should be. It's not about us. anyway, it's about whom or what we're praying for, and it's between the Holy Spirit and that person or situation. Jesus gave us a model prayer, which can be used any time, in any place or circumstance. St Paul tells the Christians in Rome in chapter 8 of his letter to them that "we don't know how to pray, but God's Spirit prays for us, we just groan silently".

Perhaps if I groaned silently more, you might groan less .... 😊

Our wonderful assistant treasurer, Lesley Neuherz, celebrated her 80th birthday yesterday 🎂

Congratulations, Lesley!

Lesley is moving to Keperra soon. We'll miss you enormously, our sister in the Lord, and you leave us with our great gratitude for so much that you and Ernst have contributed to the life, worship and fabric of the church. The Lord bless you real good!
